But when the children of Israel abandon-courage. We need it in our daily lives.

Five States Plan Court Changes

CHICAGO — Court reorganization plans will be introduced in at least five state legislatures at about the same time despite setbacks this year, a survey by the American Judiciary Society Journal disclosed.
The Journal said plans aimed at cutting delays in obtaining justice and increasing administrative efficiency probably will be introduced in the legislatures of Illinois, New York, Connecticut, Wisconsin and North Carolina.
Illinois' legislature already has approved a plan to amend the constitution for popular vote in 1958 which would bring into one court system all of the trial courts in the state. However, the Illinois and Chicago Bar Associations are not satisfied with the proposal.
New York's legislature turned down court reform proposals made by a legislative commission but the commission is expected to submit a bill again.
A court reform plan was defeeted by the Connecticut legislature last year while in Wisconsin the public rejected a reorganization plan that had been passed by the legislature.

Natural Disasters Responsible More Than Third Of Deaths

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Natural disasters were responsible for more than a third of the deaths in catastrophes — accidents in which five or more persons died during 1957, it is reported by statisticians.

Catastrophe deaths in the United States totaled almost 1-700 during the year, or about 400 more than in 1956. The increase is largely a reflection of the unusually heavy loss of life in the hurricane Audrey, which caused approximately 350 known deaths in early June—most of them in Cameron, La.

All five of the major catastrophes—those which caused at least 25 deaths—occurred in the first six months of the year. In addition to the hurricane, the others were: the fire which destroyed a home for the aged at Warrenton, Mo., on February 17, causing 12 deaths; the May 20 tornado which struck the Kansas City area, killing 39; a gas explosion which killed 7 in a coal mine near Bishop, Va., on February 4; and the March blizzard which killed 29 in the Great Plains states.

Because of the heavy toll in the hurricane, the loss of life in natural disasters was the highest in nearly 20 years.
Catastrophes involving motor vehicle mishaps and fires and explosions also took higher death tolls than in 1956. On the other hand, fatalities in civil and military aviation, and railroad transportation, were materially lower in 1957 than in 1956. The loss of life in water transportation was about the same.

Humans Can Spread Rabies, Doctor

CHICAGO — It is entirely possible for a person with rabies to spread that disease to other humans, according to an expert on infectious diseases.

Dr. Karl F. Meyer of San Francisco said for that reason any person who has been exposed to the saliva of a human suffering rabies should be inoculated.

Dr. Meyer is a editorial in the Journal of the American Medical Association, said that the saliva of a rabid person contains the rabies virus, and it may contaminate the skin and clothing of persons trying to treat or restrain him.

Temperamental Ted Signs On Dotted Line

Has Made Over $100,000 For A Decade

BOSTON — Temperamental big enough to choke Abner Doubleday's horse.

Red Sox officials won't say how much, but the figure was expected to be well above the estimated $100,000 the aging slugger has been receiving these past few fantastic years.

What the club will get for his money this year will remain one of baseball's biggest questions well into the coming season.

Williams will turn 40 this Aug. 30. Physically, he appears to be in top shape, although only by a minor ankle injury suffered by a fishing expedition, for which he is undergoing treatment.

Age in the case of Williams appears to be insignificant. At the age of 39 last year, Williams walloped 38 home runs, drove in 87 runs and had 163 base hits for an overall mark of .388. None of the youngsters of either league matched the mark.

Ted himself is non-committal. "I've been in baseball long enough," he said, "to know it's impossible to predict how a player will do. I know I'll be trying my hardest, but I can't say what will happen. We'll just have to wait and see."

Champion Skier Back To Practice

BAD GASTEIN, Austria — Bud Werner, 22-year old skiing daredevil from Steamboat Springs, Colo., returned to the practice slopes today and predicted he will catch the field Wednesday in the world championships.

The crew-cut Werner, the only American to hold his own with the European experts, felt he would make a strong showing when competition resumes after this one-day layoff.

Werner's target is the combined title, whose winner is regarded as the world's best all-around skier. It goes to the one who makes the best overall showing during the championships.

The men Werner must overhaul are Josef Rieder and world champion Toni Sailer of Austria and Chiharu (Chick) Izawa of Japan, a Dartmouth graduate and now an insurance underwriter in New York. They placed 1-2-3 in the slalom race which opened these 25-nation championships.

Werner will start 11th in the mile-a-minute downhill race. Also representing the United States will be Tom Corcoran of Westford, N. J., and New York City Dave Gersuch of Climax, Colo., and Marvin Melville of Salt Lake City.

American girls, still far behind the Europeans, made a poor showing in the women's slalom Monday. The winner was Inger Bjornbakken, a 24-year old telephone company worker from Norway and her nation's first women's world champion in 22 years.

Linda Myers of Bishop, Calif., who finished 15th, and Sally Deaver of Philadelphia who came in 19th, were the only Americans to avoid a spin down the two 50-gate courses.

Frankie Ryff Can Still Box Fingerbiting

NEW YORK — Dr. Charles E. Newman, a plastic surgeon, today allied fears that lightweight Frankie Ryff would be forced to retire because of brow cuts suffered in Monday night's victory over Tony DeSola in their TV fight at St. Nicholas Arena.

After stitching the cuts at the New Rochelle, N. Y., hospital, Dr. Newman said Ryff of New York should be able to continue his career after a lay-off of about two months.

Ryff suffered an eight-stitch gash and a two-stitch nick on his right brow, and a four-stitch cut on his left brow while winning a unanimous 10-round decision over welterweight DeSola of Brooklyn.

Dupas Yells For Rating

NORFOLK, Va. — Light-weight Ralph Dupas yelled for rating as a welterweight contender.

Dupas, 27, was one of the majority decision over Gaspar Ortega Wednesday night in their TV fight at the Municipal Auditorium.

It was the New Orleans lightweight contender's second victory in 10 months over a ranking welterweight aspirant, Mexican Driega, who was rated 10-1.

Dupas surprised the 3,195 fans by not only out-boxing lanky Ortega but by out-slugging him to win the votes of two of the three ring officials and by simply "relating to" them, as proposed in an amendment by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.).

Here is where the argument arises: Whether to require sports to show that these activities are "reasonably necessary" to the three aims. As stated in the bill, simply "relating to" them, as proposed in an amendment by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.).

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) chairman of both the subcommittee and the full Judiciary Committee, said the exemption as drawn was aimed at permitting sports to continue their player reserve clauses, draft, farm systems, and other activities which might otherwise be ruled "trade restraints."

Troubled Is Spelled For Sports Law

By TOM NELSON

WASHINGTON — Two words spelled trouble in Congress for a proposed sports anti-trust law.

The House anti-trust subcommittee approved a "middle-of-the-road" bill to place business aspects of professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey under anti-trust regulation.

But the members, all lawyers, differed sharply over the exact language of the bill. They argued about two key words—"reasonably necessary"—and their effects.

Members said that whether the words remain in the bill would make a vast difference in the results of the legislation. It would have on the sports world.

Heated Debate Likely
It looked like a cinch that the language would provoke heated debate when the bill came up against its next hurdle in Capitol Hill, the House Judiciary Committee.

The measure stems from a legal turmoil over whether sports are subject to the same anti-trust laws which apply to big business. In 1933 the Supreme Court ruled that baseball was exempt from the laws. But last year it held that football, basketball and hockey were not exempt.

After long hearings on the matter last year, the House Judiciary subcommittee Thursday came up with a bill aimed at straightening out the situation.

It would make anti-trust laws apply to commercial aspects of professional baseball, football, basketball and hockey—for example, ownership of parks, or interest in several teams in the same league.

Bill Makes Exceptions
But the bill would specifically exempt activities which are "reasonably necessary" to the equalization of teams in a league, the guarantee of territorial franchises and the preservation of public confidence in the honesty of sports contests.

Here is where the argument arises: Whether to require sports to show that these activities are "reasonably necessary" to the three aims. As stated in the bill, simply "relating to" them, as proposed in an amendment by Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.).

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) chairman of both the subcommittee and the full Judiciary Committee, said the exemption as drawn was aimed at permitting sports to continue their player reserve clauses, draft, farm systems, and other activities which might otherwise be ruled "trade restraints."

Racers Stop Middle Despite Rally

Murray State Leads By Big Margin For First Three Quarters Of Game.

Middle All Court Press Closes Gap But 'Breds Win 71-66.

The Murray State Racers picked up a conference victory and broke a seven game losing streak with a 71-66 win over the Middle Tennessee Blue Raiders at Murfreesboro last night.

Coach Rex Alexander's Thorobreds broke out on top early in the contest and enjoyed a big margin lead for the first 30 minutes of play. The 'Breds were leading 39-27 at the halftime intermission.

Gerald Tabor flipped in seven straight points to spoil a strong comeback attempt by the Raiders. Middle Tennessee was trailing by 20 points, 57-37, with some seven minutes left to play in the game.

At this point, Coach Ed Diddle, Jr. switched to an all-court press that swept away the big Racers margin. Although their Tennessee host never actually quite closed the gap the Thorobreds didn't really have the game in the bag until the closing seconds.

Middle Tennessee in two free throws with the bonus rule in effect, to narrow the margin to three points, 69-66, with only 39 seconds of regulation play left. But the Racers scored on a lay up by Sullins to hold a five-point advantage, 71-66. The Raiders failed to score on a couple of desperation shots just before the horn signaled the end of the contest.

The Blue Raiders came from behind in the second half to defeat the Racers in a previous meeting at Murray. The Thorobreds now have a 3-4 record in Ohio Valley Conference play and are tied with Middle for fourth place. Tennessee Tech leads with a 4-1 record.

Murray's offensive attack was led by Terry Darnell with 23 points. Ken Wray hit for 12 and Tabor and Herndon added 11 each.

Davis led the Middle Tennessee scoring with 21 points. In a preliminary game, the Murray team dropped a 78-77 decision to the host junior varsity.

The Murray State Thorobreds will meet the Western Hilltoppers Saturday in the College Sports Arena here. The Racers topped the Toppers in their lone meeting at Bowling Green.

Today's Sport Parade
By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK — Fearless surfaces but Head observes: "I'm not going to be serving under a hand."

NEW YORK — Baseball made certain today that the stars will play in the All-Star game.

For 11 years it has been the "fiasco" in which fans across the nation voted for their favorites. It became a real farce last year when a Cincinnati landslide would have made the National League team an all-Redleg aggregation.

The difficulty wasn't in the making of the fans—but in the fact that the ballots weren't actually counted.

Don Hennon Should Make Good Doctor
By TIM MORIARTY
United Press Staff Writer

Based on the slick way he's operating on his opponents, this season, Little Don Hennon of Pittsburgh should develop into a respected surgeon.

The five-foot, eight-inch "mighty mite" from Wampum, Pa., became the third Pitt basketball player to score more than 1,000 points when he led the touring Panthers to an easy 77-62 victory over Connecticut Tuesday night at Storrs, Conn.

Aims At Record
Hennon tossed in 31 points against the UConn to raise his career total to 1,019. Only a junior, Dandy Don now is taking dead aim on Pitt's all-time record of 1,175 points, set by Bob Lazor last season.

When he was graduated from Little Wampum High School three years ago, Hennon received scholarship offers from 68 colleges. He chose Pittsburgh because "I want to be a doctor and I feel Pitt's medical school is one of the best in the country."

Against Connecticut, Hennon thrilled a capacity crowd of 4,500 with his fall-away hook shot and clever ball-handling. The UConn trailed by only one point, 39-38, at intermission but fell apart in the second half, converting only six of 32 field goal attempts.

Elsewhere, Notre Dame pulled away in the second half to defeat touring Canisius, 71-59. Western Kentucky rolled to a 77-62 victory over De Paul. St. John's tripped Brooklyn College 91-77; Virginia Tech buried Furman, 102-76; Texas A & M trounced Houston, 92-74, and Rice breezed to a 102-68 triumph over Texas.

In tonight's major games, seventh-ranked Oklahoma State enters Tulsa, eighth-ranked Temple hosts Duquesne, and ninth-ranked Bradley visits Arizona.

Wheaton Leads Small College Press Rating

By EARL WRIGHT

United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK — The Wheaton Crusaders, who tackle a major college basketball team Saturday night when they play Bowling Green at Chicago, led the United Press small college ratings today for the fourth straight week.

But the Crusaders (16-1) were only about the length of an Illinois corn cob ahead of another Midwestern school, Steubenville, an Ohio college which has a 20-1 record and a 49-game winning streak, was only seven points behind Wheaton.

The national-wide board of small college coaches which rates the teams for the United Press gave Coach Lee Pfund's Wheaton club 18 first-place votes and 333 points. Steubenville received seven first-place votes and 536 points.

Steubenville Gains
Steubenville, which trailed by 23 points last week, gained on Wheaton by scoring heavily in the second, third, fourth and fifth place votes.

The coaches based their ballots on games played through Feb. 1. Points are awarded on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place.

Western Illinois (16-0) advanced from fourth to third, slipping down one slot with a 14-2 record. The next four teams were in the same positions they held last week.

Wine Four
Wheaton, which won the NCAA's first small college tournament last year, won four games in six days last week to stretch its current winning streak to 11. The Crusaders won games at Wayne (Mich.), 85-54; Taylor (Ind.), 104-73; Augustana (Ill.), 66-61; and Elmhurst (Ill.), 90-67.

Steubenville raised its victory streak to 19 by defeating Lawrence Tech, 85-55, and Detroit Tech, 77-68. Steubenville's only defeat this season was suffered early in the campaign at Mount St. Mary's (Md.), 67-66.

Night Club
Owner Turns
To The Ant

By VERNON SCOTT

United Press Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD 4P — Night club owner Herman Hoover has shed his famous Ciro's booze emporium and taken to raising ants—that's right, ants—in the yard of his Beverly Hills home.

Hoover, who for the past decade has played host to Movie-land's bigwigs and beauties and occasionally refereed one-punch fights, says his experiments with ants are strictly a sideline with him to keep his plush drink dispensary.

"I got interested in ants while I was recuperating from an operation in the hospital a couple of weeks ago," says Hoover.

"It's a scientific thing with me. Some friends sent me an ant farm in a plastic frame. I spent hours sitting there watching 'em dig tunnels and make roadways. They were as busy as ants, you might say."

No interests in ants
"Funny thing, I was never interested in ants before. When Ciro's was open I was more interested in stamping them out, but they weren't the scientific kind of ants. The ones in my yard are more intelligent."

Hoover currently is free on $250 bail after an alleged row with his brother-in-law. He made news last year by pleading with his estranged wife, Yvonne, to return to him. His method? Proclaiming his sentiments in lights on Ciro's marquee.

In addition to his careers as boniface and ant scientist, Hoover once was a lawyer, dance director, inventor, interior decorator, song writer, disc jockey, magazine publisher and lipstick manufacturer.

Talent Turns Toward Scientific
"Now I'm turning my talents to scientific things — Spunkies, and like that," he amplified.

Emotional Stability Greatest Problem Today Says Minister

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA (U.P.) — "My greatest concern is the emotional instability which the American people have displayed in reacting to the danger of attack by Russia."

That is a clergyman's answer to the question which the United Press put to six prominent Americans from various walks of life.

"What troubles you most as you look at America today?" The clergyman is Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the Presbyterian church U.S.A., recently retired president of the National Council of churches.

Blake is a big, bull-shouldered man whose hair is getting very white on top. He does not wear his piety on his sleeve. Interviewing him, in the downtown Philadelphia office from which he administers the affairs of his two million-member denomination, you could easily take him for a corporation executive rather than a distinguished preacher.

Emotionalism a Problem
His answers, like the man himself, did not appear at first glance to be distinctively "religious." But hear him out.

"I know," he said, "that you expect me to say that I'm concerned about the state of morality in America, or the depth of our religious revival, or something like that. I am concerned about those things, but the thing that disturbs me most is this emotional volatility which seems to be widespread in our country."

"A few months ago, we were acting as if we had no fears whatever. We were moved mainly by a desire for economy in defense and foreign aid, for tax cuts, for an easier life all around. Now we act as if fear is our only motivation. We are ready to spend any amount of money, to sacrifice almost any of our national values, in order to build missiles in a hurry."

Blake said he cannot see any logical justification for this "hysterical fluctuation" in national mood.

"In my judgment, the Sputniks have not materially increased our peril."

"We have been in very real danger ever since the Russians developed atomic weapons. We will continue to be in danger, no matter how many missiles of our own we build, so long as a few men in the Kremlin possess the power to plunge the world into a war that would destroy civilization."

Live With Danger
The basic problem facing Americans, he continued, is "to learn to live with this danger, calmly and realistically," so that "our nation can make a reasoned response that will minimize the threat of war which we cannot eliminate altogether."

Does religion have a solution for this problem?

"Yes, but it's not an easy, patent medicine answer."

"I learned from combat troops in wartime that there are two philosophies which can enable a man to live courageously with chronic danger."

"One is fatalism — the belief that I'll get mine when my number is up, and not before. This can produce a stoic calm in the individual, but on a national basis, it does not lead to much initiative or effort in trying to avert disaster."

"The other antidote to fear — the one which I most earnestly commend to Americans today — is what theologian Reinhold Niebuhr calls 'Christian nonchalance.'"

"This doesn't mean that we ignore our danger, nor that we count on God to keep us ahead of Russia in the arms race. It means only that we take very seriously the Christian assurance that death is not the end, that the basic values of human life are spiritual values which cannot be destroyed by hydrogen bombs or space missiles."

Whatever Happened To CLINT FRANK

By United Press

Clint Frank, an authentic All-America quarterback at Yale in 1937, was the third college football star to be awarded the now famous Heisman Trophy. The second winner was Yale's Larry Kelley, an aerobic end who caught many a pass from Clint in Yale's glory years two decades ago. In one of his peak performances in 37, Clint ramped arch-rival, Princeton for four touchdowns in a 28-0 victory. But a week later, in his finale against Harvard, he tore a ligament in his knee and never thereafter gave a thought to turning pro.

Whatever happened to Clint Frank? He has his own advertising agency in Chicago, still sees plenty of football including an almost annual pilgrimage East for the Yale-Princeton game and is proud of the fact he weighs just about the same as he did when he starred for Yale.

United Press Staff Correspondent HOLLYWOOD — Night club owner Herman Hoyer has closed his famous Ciro's booze emporium and taken to raising ants—that's right, ants—in the yard of his Beverly Hills home. Emotional Stability Greatest Problem Today Says Minister

By LOUIS CASSELS

United Press Staff Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA (U.P.)—My greatest concern is the emotional instability which the American people have displayed in reacting to the danger of attack by Russia.

That is a clergyman's answer to the question which the United Press put to six prominent Americans from various walks of life.

"What troubles you most as you look at America today?"

The clergyman is Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk of the Presbyterian church U.S.A., recently retired president of the National Council of churches.

"Blake is a big, bull-shouldered man whose hair is getting very sparse on top. He does not wear his piety on his sleeve. Interviewing him, in the downtown Philadelphia office from which he administers the affairs of his two million-member denomination, you could easily take him for a corporation executive rather than a distinguished preacher."

Emotionalism a Problem
His answers, like the man himself, did not appear at first glance to be distinctively "religious." But hear him out.

"I know," he said, "that you expected me to say that I'm concerned about the state of morality in America, or the depth of our religious revival, or something like that. I am concerned about those things, but the thing that disturbs me most is this emotional volatility which seems to be widespread in our country."

"A few months ago, we were acting as if we had no fears whatever. We were moved mainly by a desire for economy in defense and foreign aid, for tax cuts, for an easier life all around. Now we act as if fear is our only motivation. We are ready to spend any amount of money, to sacrifice almost any of our national values, in order to build missiles in a hurry."

Blake said he cannot see any logical justification for this "hysterical fluctuation" in national mood.

"In my judgment, the Sputniks have not materially increased our peril."

"We have been in very real danger ever since the Russians developed atomic weapons. We will continue to be in danger, no matter how many missiles of our own we build, so long as a few men in the Kremlin possess the power to plunge the world into a war that would destroy civilization."

Live With Danger
The basic problem facing Americans, he continued, is "to learn to live with this danger, calmly and realistically," so that "our nation can make a reasoned response that will minimize the threat of war which we cannot eliminate altogether."

Does religion have a solution for this problem?

"Yes, but it's not an easy, patent medicine answer."

"I learned from combat troops in wartime that there are two philosophies which can enable a man to live courageously with chronic danger."

"One is fatalism — the belief that I'll get mine when my number is up, and not before. This can produce a stoic calm in the individual, but on a national basis, it does not lead to much initiative or effort in trying to avert disaster.

The other antidote to fear — the one which I most earnestly commend to Americans today — is what theologian Reinhold Niebuhr calls 'Christian nonchalance.'

"This doesn't mean that we ignore our danger, nor that we count on God to keep us ahead of Russia in the arms race. It means only that we take very seriously the Christian assurance that death is not the end, that the basic values of human life are spiritual values which cannot be destroyed by hydrogen bombs or space missiles."

Whatever Happened To CLINT FRANK

By United Press

Clint Frank, an authentic All-America quarterback at Yale in 1937, was the third college football star to be awarded the now famous Heisman Trophy.

The second winner was Yale's Larry Kelley, an acrobatic end who caught many a pass from Clint in Yale's glory years two decades ago. In one of his peak performances in 37, Clint rammed arch-rival, Princeton for four touchdowns in a 26-0 victory.

But a week later, in his finale against Harvard, he tore a ligament in his knee and never thereafter gave a thought to turning pro.

Whatever happened to Clint Frank? He has his own advertising agency in Chicago, still sees plenty of football including an almost annual pilgrimage East for the Yale-Princeton game and is proud of the fact he weighs just about the same as he did when he starred for Yale.

ONE WIFE ONLY—Pretty Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu, member of Vietnam's national assembly, is shown in Saigon, where she is meeting with obstinate opposition to aim of having a law against polygamy. She is sister-in-law of President Ngo Dinh Diem, and serves as his "first lady." (International)

INCOME TAX FAX

Kentucky Society of Public Accountants, an affiliate of the National Society of Public Accountants

Ministers are not required to pay tax on the rental value of a parsonage furnished to them or the money paid to them as an allowance for a parsonage, provided that they actually spent the money for a parsonage.

The home or rental allowance must be provided for the minister in exchange for services ordinarily performed by a minister of the Gospel in his ministry.

If money is paid to the minister instead of furnishing a parsonage, the employing church or other qualifying organization must take some official action to designate the amount of rental allowance. This can be in the employment contract, or in the minutes of the organization, or by a resolution of the organization.

This action must be taken before the payment is made, if it is to cover payments made after December 31, 1957, and to cover payments made before December 31, 1957, the action must have been taken prior to January 1, 1958.

Any such rental allowance must be spent to rent or provide a home, otherwise any amounts not so used must be included in gross income and the tax paid.

Rental allowances will be deemed to have been used to provide a home if they are used to (1) rent a home (2) purchase a home and (3) for expenses directly related to providing a home. Expenses for food and servants are not considered as being directly related to providing a home for this purpose.

Where a minister rents, or purchases or owns a farm or other business property, in addition to a home, the portion of the rental allowance used in connection with the farm or other business property is taxed.

Since payments on a home are allowable, this gives the minister a chance to accumulate an equity in a home, with tax-free income.

If you are a minister, you should check this provision very carefully with your accountant and endeavor to make some satisfactory agreement with your congregation for a parsonage allowance which would allow you to purchase a home with tax-free income.

We return herewith 22 indictments.

II

As a part of our official duties we have inspected the various buildings and other property owned by the County, including the Calloway County Court House and Jail, the County Health Center and the Home maintained for the indigent citizens of the County.

Our investigation and inspection of these facilities revealed that the Health Center and the equipment used therein, is in an excellent condition; that the Home maintained for the County for its indigent citizens is being satisfactorily operated and supervised by the caretakers, but we would suggest to the Fiscal Court that some immediate attention be given to the maintenance of the gravel road running to the County Home from US Highway 641. We feel that some additional gravel should be placed on the road in order to insure the traffic going to and from the home will be better accommodated particularly during the winter and spring months ahead.

We desire to make some special reference in this report to the vast improvement which has been made and is being made in the maintenance of the corridors, offices and Court Room of the Court House, which improvement has been due to the work and efforts of the Jailor, Clyde Steele. It will be apparent to every citizen of the County who has occasion to transact business in the Court House, as it has been to each of us, that much work has been done by Mr. Steele and we wish to publicly commend in this regard.

With reference to the condition existing on South 9th St. Ext., just South of the City Limits of Murray, and which resulted in complaints from residents of that area by reason of the presence of gasoline bulk storage tanks located in the same area, we desire to state that we have continued the investigation of the same as was commenced by the September Grand Jury of this Court and which was referred by them to this present Grand Jury. The County Health Sanitation Officer has reported to this Grand Jury that air samples have been taken by him or under his supervision and in conjunction with the Kentucky State Department of Health in order to determine whether the pollution of the air by raw gasoline fumes was such as to constitute a health hazard to the residents of the immediate area. It is our information that, as of the time such air samples were taken, the Health Department was unable to secure conclusive proof to establish a health hazard in connection with the operation, although there is a definite possibility of more conclusive tests being made during the summer months. The County Health Sanitation Officer is requested to continue his observation of this condition and to report his findings to any future Grand Jury of this County if it is found that a health hazard is actually created by this condition.

We desire to report to the Court that we have made an investigation into the conduct of the office of the Circuit Court Clerk during the year immediately preceding January 6, 1958, at which time the present Clerk assumed office. Our investigation reveals that many irregularities existed in this office during this period in regard to both public and private funds handled by the office, some of which irregularities still exist. It is also apparent that the previous Clerk failed to satisfactorily perform the duties of his office during the above period of time, or to have the same performed, causing many inconveniences to the general public having need of transact business in that public office.

It is apparent, however, that many of these irregularities have now been corrected and a genuine effort is presently being made to satisfy all financial irregularities which existed. For this reason, no indictment has been returned in this connection by this Grand Jury. We do, Troop 45 held their first Green Bar meeting in this month to plan the program for the summer. This has worked out so well they will continue to use this method. This is a method of teaching the boys leadership.

In April Troop 45 took their first weekend camping trip of the year. Although the weather was cold and wet they had a good time. It was the first cold weather camping for many of the Scouts.

Also in April many of the Scouts received their wings in the Ground Observer Corps. May was the month of the Spring Camporee held at the Boy Scout Reservation the last weekend of the month. More than 500 Scouts attended the Camporee from the Four Rivers Council.

Although it rained a good deal of the time many phases of Scoutcraft were practiced. This was the first opportunity for the Scouts to take advantage of the many new improvements on the reservation.

June 2 Woody Herndon and Jerry Adams of Troop 45 received the God and Country Award at the First Baptist Church. This brought to three the number of boys in this troop who had earned this award.

Summer Camp was held on the Reservation the week of June 23-29 with over one hundred Scouts from Troop 45 were present where a wonderful camp program was held including many water sports. Three boys earned the Scout Lifeguard Award at Summer Camp. They were Larry Burton, Jerry Adams and Harold Shoemaker.

Jerry Adams and Harold Shoemaker along with Scoutmaster Cleo Sykes were inducted into the Order of the Arrow during the month of June two training camps were held for the National Jamboree held at Valley Forge, Pa.

all's office, mosquito control and two state tuberculosis hospitals—all of them omitted from the Senate bill.

The Senate bill includes an additional $50,000 for the Court of Appeals and an additional $389,000 for a Minimum Foundation Program for Education that were not included in the House bill.

If the House refuses to concur in the Senate substitute bill, a conference committee composed of members from both chambers will be named to prepare a compromise that will be acceptable to both branches of the legislature.

The House Suffrage and Elections Committee was scheduled to hold a public hearing this morning on election laws. The committee will devote most of its attention to proposed changes in the absentee ballot law.

The United States bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark during World War I as a safeguard against occupation. Purchase price was $25,000,000.

The 1956-57 farm and garden production at Kentucky Reformatory farm, LaGrange, was 1,002,050 pounds more than the 1955-56 production according to Charles M. Stagner, Director Division Farm Management.

however, specifically refer this matter to the next Grand Jury for their further investigation and attention as the situation at that time may demand.

The Grand Jury would now finally report that they have completed the work assigned to them and that they have investigated into all offenses of whatever nature which have been brought to their attention by the officials of the County, as well as all offenses which they have personal knowledge, and that they have either returned indictments, dismissed or referred to the next Grand Jury all of such offenses.

Respectfully submitted,
